

No copyright materials are used in this text
The summary and interpretation of the specific chapter and verses are from the Bible, they are religious text that is in the public domain.

Free to Copy and Distribute: Spread the Word!

(Peter Lok) 駱沅祺
lokpeter@outlook.com

Promises for Book 1 Peter

In chapter 1 of 1 Peter, there are several promises that God makes to believers. Here are some of the key promises:

In verse 3, God promises us a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead.

In verse 4, God promises us an inheritance that can never perish, spoil, or fade.

In verse 5, God promises us that we are shielded by his power through faith, and that our salvation is ready to be revealed in the last time.

In verse 7, God promises us that the genuineness of our faith, which is more precious than gold, will be tested by fire and will result in praise, glory, and honor when Jesus Christ is revealed.

In verse 9, God promises us that we are receiving the end result of our faith, the salvation of our souls.

Overall, the promises in 1 Peter chapter 1 encourage believers to have faith and hope in God, even in the midst of trials and difficulties, and to trust in the ultimate salvation that God has prepared for us through Jesus Christ.

In chapter 2 of 1 Peter, God continues to make promises to believers. Here are some of the key promises:

In verse 2, God promises that as newborn babies, we can crave pure spiritual milk and grow up in our salvation.

In verse 5, God promises that we are being built into a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ.

In verse 9, God promises that we are a chosen people, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, God's special possession, that we may declare the praises of him who called us out of darkness into his wonderful light.

In verse 16, God promises that we should live as free people, but not use our freedom as a cover-up for evil; rather, we should live as God's slaves.

In verse 24, God promises that by Jesus' wounds we have been healed.

Overall, the promises in 1 Peter chapter 2 remind us of our identity as God's chosen people, our responsibility to offer spiritual sacrifices, and the healing and freedom that we have through Jesus Christ.

In chapter 3 of 1 Peter, God continues to make promises to believers. Here are some of the key promises:

In verse 5, God promises that we can rely on the inner beauty of a gentle and quiet spirit, which is of great worth in God's sight.

In verse 7, God promises that husbands who treat their wives with consideration and respect will have their prayers not hindered.

In verse 9, God promises that those who bless others will inherit a blessing.

In verse 12, God promises that his eyes are on the righteous and his ears are attentive to their prayers.

In verse 15, God promises that we should always be prepared to give an answer to everyone who asks us to give the reason for the hope that we have.

Overall, the promises in 1 Peter chapter 3 encourage us to focus on our inner beauty and character, to treat others with kindness and respect, and to be prepared to share the hope that we have in Christ. They also remind us that God is attentive to our prayers and promises blessings to those who bless others.

In chapter 4 of 1 Peter, God continues to make promises to believers. Here are some of the key promises:

In verse 6, God promises that the gospel was preached even to those who are now dead, so that they might be judged according to human standards in regard to the body, but live according to God in regard to the spirit.

In verse 8, God promises that love covers over a multitude of sins.

In verse 11, God promises that whoever serves should do so with the strength that God provides, so that in all things God may be praised through Jesus Christ.

In verse 13, God promises that those who suffer for the name of Christ are blessed, and that the Spirit of glory and of God rests on them.

In verse 19, God promises that those who suffer according to God's will should commit themselves to their faithful Creator and continue to do good.

Overall, the promises in 1 Peter chapter 4 remind us that even in the midst of suffering and persecution, God is with us and will strengthen us to do his will. They also remind us of the importance of love and of committing ourselves to God's faithful care.

In chapter 5 of 1 Peter, God continues to make promises to believers. Here are some of the key promises:

In verse 4, God promises that when the Chief Shepherd appears, believers will receive the crown of glory that will never fade away.

In verse 6, God promises that if we humble ourselves under God's mighty hand, he will lift us up in due time.

In verse 7, God promises that we can cast all our anxiety on him because he cares for us.

In verse 8, God promises that we should be alert and of sober mind because our enemy the devil prowls around like a roaring lion looking for someone to devour.

In verse 10, God promises that after we have suffered a little while, he will himself restore us and make us strong, firm, and steadfast.

Overall, the promises in 1 Peter chapter 5 encourage us to trust in God's care and provision, to resist the attacks of the enemy, and to remain steadfast in our faith, knowing that God will ultimately restore us and bring us to glory.