

No copyright materials are used in this text
The summary and interpretation of the specific chapter and verses are from the Bible, they are religious text that is in the public domain.

Free to Copy and Distribute: Spread the Word!

(Peter Lok) 駱沅祺
lokpeter@outlook.com

Promises for Book 2 Peter

In chapter 1 of 2 Peter, God makes several promises to believers. Here are some of the key promises:

In verse 3, God promises that his divine power has given us everything we need for a godly life through our knowledge of him who called us by his own glory and goodness.

In verse 4, God promises that through these he has given us his very great and precious promises, so that through them we may participate in the divine nature and escape the corruption in the world caused by evil desires.

In verse 10, God promises that if we make every effort to add to our faith goodness, knowledge, self-control, perseverance, godliness, mutual affection, and love, we will not be ineffective and unproductive in our knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

In verse 11, God promises that we will receive a rich welcome into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

In verse 21, God promises that no prophecy of Scripture came about by the prophet's own interpretation of things. For prophecy never had its origin in the human will, but prophets, though human, spoke from God as they were carried along by the Holy Spirit.

Overall, the promises in 2 Peter chapter 1 encourage us to trust in God's power and promises, to pursue growth in our faith and godly character, and to look forward to the eternal kingdom that God has promised to those who love him.

In chapter 2 of 1 Peter, the focus is more on warning against false teachers and their destructive teachings than on God's promises. However, there are a few verses where God's promises are mentioned. Here are some of the key promises:

In verse 9, God promises that believers are a chosen people, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, God's special possession, that we may declare the praises of him who called us out of darkness into his wonderful light.

In verse 16, God promises that we should live as free people, but not use our freedom as a cover-up for evil; live as God's slaves.

In verse 25, God promises that we have now returned to the Shepherd and Overseer of our souls.

Overall, the promises in 1 Peter chapter 2 emphasize the special position of believers as God's chosen people and urge us to live in accordance with our status as his holy possession.

In chapter 3 of 1 Peter, God continues to make promises to believers. Here are some of the key promises:

In verse 5, God promises that holy women of the past who put their hope in God also adorned themselves in this way and were submissive to their own husbands.

In verse 7, God promises that husbands should be considerate as they live with their wives, and treat them with respect as the weaker partner and as heirs with you of the gracious gift of life, so that nothing will hinder your prayers.

In verse 9, God promises that we should not repay evil with evil or insult with insult, but with blessing, because to this we were called so that we may inherit a blessing.

In verse 12, God promises that the eyes of the Lord are on the righteous and his ears are attentive to their prayer, but the face of the Lord is against those who do evil.

Overall, the promises in 1 Peter chapter 3 remind us of the importance of living in a way that is pleasing to God, treating others with respect and love, and trusting in his protection and provision. They also remind us that God hears the prayers of the righteous and is attentive to our needs.