Promises for Book Philippians

In chapter 1 of Philippians, there are several promises that God makes to believers. Here are some of them:

Completion of the good work: In verse 6, God promises that he who began a good work in you will bring it to completion at the day of Jesus Christ.

Intercession of Christ: In verse 19, God promises that he will supply every need of yours according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus.

Fruitful labor: In verses 21-22, God promises that for believers, to live is Christ and to die is gain, but if they are to live in the flesh, that means fruitful labor for them.

Boldness in Christ: In verse 28, God promises that believers should not be frightened in anything by their opponents. This is a clear sign to them of their destruction, but of your salvation, and that from God.

Overall, chapter 1 of Philippians emphasizes the promise of completion of the good work that God began in believers, the intercession of Christ, the possibility of fruitful labor, and boldness in Christ. These promises are meant to encourage believers to continue on in their faith, trusting in God's faithfulness and provision for them.

In chapter 2 of Philippians, there are several promises that God makes to believers. Here are some of them:

Like-mindedness and unity: In verses 1-2, God promises that believers can experience encouragement in Christ, comfort from love, participation in the Spirit, affection and sympathy, if they are like-minded, having the same love, being in full accord and of one mind.

Humility and exaltation: In verses 5-11, God promises that believers should have the same mindset as Christ Jesus, who humbled himself by becoming obedient to the point of death, and God exalted him to the highest place and gave him the name that is above every name.

Work out salvation: In verse 12, God promises that believers should work out their own salvation with fear and trembling, for it is God who works in them, both to will and to work for his good pleasure.

Overall, chapter 2 of Philippians emphasizes the promise of like-mindedness and unity among believers, the example of Christ's humility and exaltation, and the importance of working out salvation with fear and trembling. These promises are meant to encourage believers to live in a manner worthy of the gospel of Christ, to be humble and obedient like Jesus, and to continue growing in their faith and relationship with God.

In chapter 3 of Philippians, there are several promises that God makes to believers. Here are some of them:

Righteousness through faith: In verses 8-9, God promises that he counts everything as loss because of the surpassing worth of knowing Christ Jesus, and that believers may be found in him, not having a righteousness of their own that comes from the law, but that which comes through faith in Christ, the righteousness from God that depends on faith.

Knowing Christ: In verses 10-11, God promises that believers may know him and the power of his resurrection, and may share in his sufferings, becoming like him in his death, that by any means possible they may attain the resurrection from the dead.

Citizenship in heaven: In verse 20, God promises that believers' citizenship is in heaven, and from it they await a Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ.

Overall, chapter 3 of Philippians emphasizes the promise of righteousness through faith in Christ, the importance of knowing him and sharing in his sufferings, and the citizenship of believers in heaven. These promises are meant to encourage believers to press on in their faith, seeking to know Christ more deeply and to live in a manner worthy of their heavenly citizenship.

In chapter 4 of Philippians, there are several promises that God makes to believers. Here are some of them:

Peace that surpasses understanding: In verse 7, God promises that the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard believers' hearts and minds in Christ Jesus.

Provision of needs: In verse 19, God promises that he will supply every need of believers according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus.

Contentment in all circumstances: In verses 11-13, God promises that believers can learn to be content in all circumstances, whether in plenty or in need, through Christ who strengthens them.

God's presence: In verse 23, God promises that the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with believers' spirit.

Overall, chapter 4 of Philippians emphasizes the promise of peace that surpasses understanding, provision of needs, contentment in all circumstances, and the presence of God's grace. These promises are meant to encourage believers to trust in God's faithfulness and to rely on his provision and strength, even in difficult circumstances.
