

No copyright materials are used in this text
The summary and interpretation of the specific chapter and verses are from the Bible, they are religious text that is in the public domain.

Free to Copy and Distribute: Spread the Word!

(Peter Lok) 駱沅祺
lokpeter@outlook.com

Daily Rice 2023 July 20

God's Promise and Protection:

There are many verses in the Bible about God's promises and protection. Here are a few examples:

Psalm 91:11-12

"For he will command his angels for you, to guard you in all your ways. They will support you with their hands, lest your foot touch a stone."

Isaiah 54:17

"Any weapon made against you shall not be used; and you shall condemn him in judgment. This is the inheritance of the servants of the LORD, and it is their righteousness from me, saith the LORD."

Exodus 14:14

"The LORD will fight for you; keep silent and keep silent."

Luke 12:32

"Fear not, little people; for your Father is pleased to give you the kingdom."

In these verses, God shows us His love and care, giving us comfort and protection, being our refuge and strong backing in every situation. When we trust God's promises, we can move forward with confidence in our journey of life.

God led the Israelites out of Egypt by guiding them with a pillar of cloud by day and by a pillar of fire by night. This demonstrates God's role as their leader and protector. This story reminds us that God is our Guide and we should rely on Him for guidance, trusting Him to protect and guide us on our life journey

Dear God,

We come to you at this moment, thank you for your love and care for us. Thank you for your life and your infinite grace. There are many beautiful promises in your words, we deeply believe that your words are true, so we want to declare to you that your promises will be fulfilled in our lives.

Please protect all our actions and protect us every day of our lives. Please guard us with Your mighty hand, and keep us from evil. May your angels accompany us and guide us in the path of righteousness.

Lord, please give us the wisdom and the ability to discern right from wrong so that we can stay away from things that hurt our souls. Let us stand firm in the face of temptation, knowing that Your Word is our guide and protection in life.

Thank you for your promise, Lord. Make our faith firm in the face of adversity, for You are our refuge and strength. When we face difficulties and challenges, please let us remember your words, because you have said: "I will never leave you nor forsake you".

Thank you, Lord, for your love never changes. May your promises be fulfilled in our lives so that we may be witnesses of your glory and manifest your name in this world.

We pray in the name of Jesus, Amen

Exodus Chapter 13

Ex. 13:1 The LORD said to Moses,

Ex. 13:2 "Consecrate to me every firstborn male. The first offspring of every womb among the Israelites belongs to me, whether man or animal."

Ex. 13:3 Then Moses said to the people, "Commemorate this day, the day you came out of Egypt, out of the land of slavery, because the LORD brought you out of it with a mighty hand.

Eat nothing containing yeast.

Ex. 13:4 Today, in the month of Abib, you are leaving.

Ex. 13:5 When the LORD brings you into the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Hivites and Jebusites — the land he swore to your forefathers to give you, a land flowing with milk and honey — you are to observe this ceremony in this month:

Ex. 13:6 For seven days eat bread made without yeast and on the seventh day hold a festival to the LORD.

Ex. 13:7 Eat unleavened bread during those seven days; nothing with yeast in it is to be seen among you, nor shall any yeast be seen anywhere within your borders.

Ex. 13:8 On that day tell your son, ‘I do this because of what the LORD did for me when I came out of Egypt.’

Ex. 13:9 This observance will be for you like a sign on your hand and a reminder on your forehead that the law of the LORD is to be on your lips. For the LORD brought you out of Egypt with his mighty hand.

Ex. 13:10 You must keep this ordinance at the appointed time year after year.

Ex. 13:11 “After the LORD brings you into the land of the Canaanites and gives it to you, as he promised on oath to you and your forefathers, Ex. 13:12 you are to give over to the LORD the first offspring of every womb. All the firstborn males of your livestock belong to the LORD.

Ex. 13:13 Redeem with a lamb every firstborn donkey, but if you do not redeem it, break its neck. Redeem every firstborn among your sons.

Ex. 13:14 “In days to come when your son asks you, ‘What does this mean?’ say to him, ‘With a mighty hand the LORD brought us out of Egypt, out of the land of slavery.

Ex. 13:15 When Pharaoh stubbornly refused to let us go, the LORD killed every firstborn in Egypt, both man and animal. This is why I sacrifice to the LORD the first male offspring of every womb and redeem each of my firstborn sons.’

Ex. 13:16 And it will be like a sign on your hand and a symbol on your forehead that the LORD brought us out of Egypt with his mighty hand.”

Ex. 13:17 When Pharaoh let the people go, God did not lead them on the road through the Philistine country, though that was shorter. For God said, “If they face war, they might change their minds and return to Egypt.”

Ex. 13:18 So God led the people around by the desert road towards the Red Sea. The Israelites went up out of Egypt armed for battle.

Ex. 13:19 Moses took the bones of Joseph with him because Joseph had made the sons of Israel swear an oath. He had said, “God will surely come to your aid, and then you must carry my bones up with you from this place.”

Ex. 13:20 After leaving Succoth they camped at Etham on the edge of the desert.

Ex. 13:21 By day the LORD went ahead of them in a pillar of cloud to guide them on their way and by night in a pillar of fire to give them light, so that they could travel by day or night.

Ex. 13:22 Neither the pillar of cloud by day nor the pillar of fire by night left its place in front of the people

Chapter 13 of Exodus in the Bible describes the consecration of the firstborn and the Israelites' departure from Egypt.

God instructs Moses to consecrate every firstborn male, both human and animal, to Him as a reminder of the night He spared the Israelites' firstborn during the final plague in Egypt. The Israelites are also commanded to observe the Feast of Unleavened Bread, to be eaten for seven days, and to refrain from eating any leavened bread during this time.

God leads the Israelites with a pillar of cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night, guiding them towards the Red Sea. When Pharaoh hears that the Israelites have left Egypt, he changes his mind and sets out after them with his army.

The chapter ends with the Israelites encamped at the Red Sea, with Pharaoh and his army approaching from behind. Despite their fear, God commands Moses to stretch out his hand over the sea, and the waters part, allowing the Israelites to cross on dry ground.

the key verses Chapter 13 of Exodus in the Bible

Exodus chapter 13 focuses on the consecration of the firstborn and the beginning of the Israelites' journey out of Egypt.

Here are some key verses from Exodus chapter 13:

1. "Consecrate to me every firstborn male. The first offspring of every womb among the Israelites belongs to me, whether human or animal" (Exodus 13:2): This verse establishes the concept of consecrating the firstborn to God, as a reminder of how God spared the Israelite firstborn during the final plague in Egypt.
2. "This observance will be for you like a sign on your hand and a reminder on your forehead that this law of the Lord is to be on your lips. For the Lord brought you out of Egypt with his mighty hand" (Exodus 13:9): This verse emphasizes the importance of remembering and observing the consecration of the firstborn, as a way of keeping God's law on their lips and in their hearts.
3. "When Pharaoh let the people go, God did not lead them on the road through the Philistine country, though that was shorter. For God said, 'If they face war, they might change their minds and return to Egypt'" (Exodus 13:17): This verse shows how God guided the Israelites on their journey, avoiding the more direct route through Philistine territory to protect them from potential conflict.
4. "By day the Lord went ahead of them in a pillar of cloud to guide them on their way and by night in a pillar of fire to give them light, so that they could travel by day or night" (Exodus 13:21): This verse highlights the miraculous nature of God's guidance, providing a visible sign in the form of a pillar of cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night.
5. "Moses took the bones of Joseph with him because Joseph had made the Israelites swear an oath. He had said, 'God will surely come to your aid, and then you must carry my bones up with you from this place'" (Exodus 13:19): This verse shows how the Israelites honored Joseph's dying request to have his bones carried with them as a reminder of their connection to their ancestry.

Overall, Exodus chapter 13 emphasizes the importance of consecration to God and the guidance and protection that God provided to the Israelites on their journey out of Egypt.

Here's a reflection on Exodus chapter 13:

Exodus chapter 13 continues the narrative of the Israelites' journey from Egypt to the Promised Land. In this chapter, God provides instructions to the Israelites regarding the consecration of the firstborn, the observance of the Feast of Unleavened Bread, and the guidance through the pillar of cloud and fire.

One of the central themes in this chapter is the significance of consecration and remembrance. God commands the Israelites to consecrate every firstborn—both of humans and animals—as a reminder of the deliverance He brought about in Egypt. The firstborn sons are to be redeemed, symbolizing their consecration to God and His ownership of their lives. This act serves as a continual reminder of God's faithfulness and their response of dedication to Him.

Additionally, God instructs the Israelites to observe the Feast of Unleavened Bread as a commemoration of their hasty departure from Egypt. The unleavened bread symbolizes their need to leave quickly and signifies their separation from the sinful ways of Egypt. This feast is to be observed annually as a reminder of God's deliverance and their commitment to live in obedience to Him.

Another important theme in this chapter is God's guidance and provision through the pillar of cloud and fire. God leads the Israelites by manifesting His presence in a pillar of cloud during the day and a pillar of fire at night. This visible sign serves as a constant reminder of God's faithfulness, His guidance, and His presence with them on their journey.

Reflecting on Exodus chapter 13, we can draw several lessons for our own lives. Firstly, it reminds us of the importance of consecration and dedication to God. Just as the Israelites were called to consecrate their firstborn and acknowledge God's ownership over their lives, we too are called to consecrate ourselves and surrender our lives to God. It is through this consecration that we can experience a deeper intimacy with Him and align our lives with His purposes.

Secondly, this chapter emphasizes the significance of remembrance. The Israelites were instructed to observe the Feast of Unleavened Bread as a way to remember God's deliverance and their commitment to live according to His ways. In our own lives, we are called to remember God's faithfulness, His deliverance, and the covenant relationship we have with Him. This can be done through various practices such as regular worship, prayer, reading and studying the Scriptures, and participating in the Lord's Supper.

Furthermore, Exodus chapter 13 highlights God's guidance and provision in our journey of faith. Just as the pillar of cloud and fire led the Israelites, we can trust that God is with us every step of the way, guiding us, protecting us, and providing for our needs. We can rely on His presence and seek His guidance through prayer, meditation, and listening to His voice.

In conclusion, Exodus chapter 13 emphasizes the importance of consecration, remembrance, and God's guidance in the lives of the Israelites. It calls us to consecrate ourselves to God, remember His faithfulness, and seek His guidance and provision in our journey of faith. By reflecting on these lessons, we can deepen our commitment to God, remember His work in our lives, and trust in His guidance as we walk with Him.