Continuation of thanksgiving and worship

Numbers 28:2 And tell the Israelites that you will say, Offerings to me, food for me as a fire offering, you will give me according to the day.

Thanksgiving and worship are very important attitudes and practices in life, and they should not only manifest themselves on special holidays or special occasions, but should become part of our daily lives. This ongoing gratitude and worship not only contributes to our personal happiness and inner peace, but also to building positive social relationships and a wider community community.

The practice of continuous gratitude can help us better understand the good things in life. We can all wake up every morning feeling grateful that we have a new day to start and new opportunities to meet. We can thank the rising sun, the beautiful scenery of nature, and the presence of family and friends. Even when setbacks or difficulties arise in life, gratitude can help us see the positive side of things and learn important lessons from them. Continuous gratitude allows us to develop an optimistic attitude, which is important for overcoming difficulties and overcoming setbacks.

Worship should also be a part of our daily lives. Worship is not just a religious ceremony, it can also be expressed in admiration and respect for life and the universe. We can practice worship and connect with God by being close to nature, meditating, or finding inner peace. Reminds us that we are not isolated individuals, but part of life and the universe.

The continuity of gratitude and worship also contributes to more positive social relationships. When we feel thankful and worshipful, we are more likely to show kindness and generosity toward others. This helps build close friendships, strengthen family ties, and strengthen community communities. When we feel grateful, we are more motivated to help those in need and actively participate in volunteer activities and charity.

In conclusion, thanksgiving and worship should be a part of our lives, not just occasional manifestations. This ongoing practice contributes to our personal growth and well-being, helps build positive social relationships, and allows us to be more connected to nature and the universe. Let's find time each day to give thanks and worship that will make our lives richer and more meaningful.

Thanksgiving and worship are one of the core elements of the Christian faith, and they should be an ongoing practice in the Christian life. Here are some important ongoing principles and verses about thanksgiving and worship:

Persistence of gratitude:

1 Thessalonians 5:18 "Give thanks for all things, for this is God's will for you in Christ Jesus." ┘

2 Corinthians 9:11 "When you are rich, you will give alms so much that you will give much to God." ┘

Continuity of worship:

Romans 12:1 "Therefore, brethren, I exhort you, in the mercy of God, to offer your bodies as living sacrifices, holy and pleasing to God, and it is natural for you to serve as such. ┘

John 4:23-24 "The time has come, and now is the time for those who truly worship the Father to worship Him in spirit and in truth, for the Father wants such people to worship Him." God is a spirit, and those who worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth. ┘

Prayer of Thanksgiving:

Philippians 4:6 "Be anxious for nothing but tell God what you want through prayer, supplication, and thanksgiving." ┘

Colossians 3:17 "Whatever you do, or speak or do, give thanks to God the Father through the name of the Lord Jesus." ┘

Worship Gatherings:

Hebrews 10:25 "Do not cease to meet, as those who stop exhort one another, all the more so knowing that day is approaching." ┘

Psalms 95:6: "Come, we bow down to the Lord who made us." ┘

Attitude of gratitude:

1 Corinthians 10:31 "Therefore, whether you eat or drink, whatever you do, do for the glory of God." ┘

Colossians 3:15 "Let the peace of Christ be lord in thy hearts, and for it you will be called to be one, and be thankful." ┘

These verses and principles emphasize gratitude and worship as an important part of the Christian faith and that they should be an ongoing practice of daily life. Thanksgiving and worship are not just ritual activities, but should be part of life to express gratitude and respect for God.

Together We pray

Heavenly Father, we thank You for providing us with this opportunity to interact with You. We are grateful for Your grace and care and for Your guidance in our lives. Today, we come to You to pray for those who need a continuous life of thanksgiving and worship.

Help us to maintain a grateful attitude in our daily lives and recognize Your grace and blessings no matter what circumstances we encounter. May our worship be not just a religious ceremony, but gratitude and love from the heart.

Help us to pray for other Christians, especially those in need. May we support each other, intercede with each other, and help each other grow in our faith. Please also help us remember to pray for the unbelievers, that they may know and accept Christ.

Continue to guide us in our lives and make us glorified witnesses. May we continue to give thanks and worship to You because You deserve all glory and honor. Pray in the name of the Lord Jesus, Amen.

CHAPTER 28

Nu. 28:1 The LORD said to Moses,

Nu. 28:2 “Give this command to the Israelites and say to them: ‘See that you present to me at the appointed time the food for my offerings made by fire, as an aroma pleasing to me.’

Nu. 28:3 Say to them: ‘This is the offering made by fire that you are to present to the LORD: two lambs a year old without defect, as a regular burnt offering each day.

Nu. 28:4 Prepare one lamb in the morning and the other at twilight,

Nu. 28:5 together with a grain offering of a tenth of an ephah [That is, probably about 4 pints (about 2 litres); also in verses 13, 21 and 29] of fine flour mixed with a quarter of a hin [That is, probably about 1 1/2 pints (about 1 litre); also in verses 7 and 14] of oil from pressed olives.

Nu. 28:6 This is the regular burnt offering instituted at Mount Sinai as a pleasing aroma, an offering made to the LORD by fire.

Nu. 28:7 The accompanying drink offering is to be a quarter of a hin of fermented drink with each lamb. Pour out the drink offering to the LORD at the sanctuary.

Nu. 28:8 Prepare the second lamb at twilight, along with the same kind of grain offering and drink offering that you prepare in the morning. This is an offering made by fire, an aroma pleasing to the LORD.

Nu. 28:9 ““On the Sabbath day, make an offering of two lambs a year old without defect, together with its drink offering and a grain offering of two-tenths of an ephah [That is, probably about 7 1/2 pints (about 4.5 litres); also in verses 12, 20 and 28] of fine flour mixed with oil.

Nu. 28:10 This is the burnt offering for every Sabbath, in addition to the regular burnt offering and its drink offering.

Nu. 28:11 ““On the first of every month, present to the LORD a burnt offering of two young bulls, one ram and seven male lambs a year old, all without defect.

Nu. 28:12 With each bull there is to be a grain offering of three-tenths of an ephah [That is, probably about 11 1/2 pints (about 6.5 litres); also in verses 20 and 28] of fine flour mixed with oil; with the ram, a grain offering of two-tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil;

Nu. 28:13 and with each lamb, a grain offering of a tenth of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil. This is for a burnt offering, a pleasing aroma, an offering made to the LORD by fire.

Nu. 28:14 With each bull there is to be a drink offering of half a hin

[That is, probably about 3 pints (about 2 litres)] of wine; with the ram, a third of a hin; [That is, probably about 2 1/4 pints (about 1.2 litres)] and with each lamb, a quarter of a hin. This is the monthly burnt offering to be made at each new moon during the year.

Nu. 28:15 Besides the regular burnt offering with its drink offering, one male goat is to be presented to the LORD as a sin offering.

Nu. 28:16 ““On the fourteenth day of the first month the LORD’s Passover is to be held.

Nu. 28:17 On the fifteenth day of this month there is to be a festival; for seven days eat bread made without yeast.

Nu. 28:18 On the first day hold a sacred assembly and do no regular work.

Nu. 28:19 Present to the LORD an offering made by fire, a burnt offering of two young bulls, one ram and seven male lambs a year old, all without defect.

Nu. 28:20 With each bull prepare a grain offering of three-tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil; with the ram, two-tenths;

Nu. 28:21 and with each of the seven lambs, one-tenth.

Nu. 28:22 Include one male goat as a sin offering to make atonement for you.

Nu. 28:23 Prepare these in addition to the regular morning burnt offering.

Nu. 28:24 In this way prepare the food for the offering made by fire every day for seven days as an aroma pleasing to the LORD; it is to be prepared in addition to the regular burnt offering and its drink offering.

Nu. 28:25 On the seventh day hold a sacred assembly and do no regular work.

Nu. 28:26 ““On the day of firstfruits, when you present to the LORD an offering of new grain during the Feast of Weeks, hold a sacred assembly and do no regular work.

Nu. 28:27 Present a burnt offering of two young bulls, one ram and seven male lambs a year old as an aroma pleasing to the LORD.

Nu. 28:28 With each bull there is to be a grain offering of three-tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil; with the ram, twotenths;

Nu. 28:29 and with each of the seven lambs, one-tenth.

Nu. 28:30 Include one male goat to make atonement for you.

Nu. 28:31 Prepare these together with their drink offerings, in addition to the regular burnt offering and its grain offering. Be sure the animals are without defect.

In Chapter 28 of the book of Numbers, God instructs Moses to tell the Israelites about the offerings they should bring to Him at appointed times, including the daily burnt offerings, the Sabbath offerings, and the monthly offerings. God also gives specific instructions on the sacrifices that should be made during the annual festivals of Passover, the Feast of Weeks, and the Feast of Tabernacles. The chapter emphasizes the importance of offering sacrifices to God in accordance with His commands and at the designated times, as a sign of the Israelites' devotion and obedience to Him.

Here are some key verses from chapter 28 of the Book of Numbers in the Christian Bible:

- "The Lord said to Moses, 'Command the Israelites and say to them: "Be sure to present to me at the appointed time my food offerings, as an aroma pleasing to me.'"" - Numbers 28:1-2
- "On the Sabbath day, make an offering of two lambs a year old without defect, together with its drink offering and a grain offering of two-tenths of an ephah of the finest flour mixed with olive oil." - Numbers 28:9
- "On the first day of each month, present a burnt offering to the Lord of two young bulls, one ram and seven male lambs a year old, all without defect. With each bull there is to be a grain offering of three-tenths of an ephah of the finest flour mixed with oil; with the ram, a grain offering of two-tenths of an ephah of the finest flour mixed with oil; and with each lamb, a grain offering of a tenth of an ephah of the finest flour mixed with oil." - Numbers 28:11-13

- "On the fourteenth day of the first month the Lord's Passover is to be held. On the fifteenth day of this month there is to be a festival; for seven days eat bread made without yeast." - Numbers 28:16-17

In this chapter, God gives instructions to Moses regarding the daily and seasonal offerings that the Israelites were to make to Him. This includes offerings on the Sabbath, the first of the month, the Passover, and the Festival of Unleavened Bread. The offerings were to be made with specific animals and amounts of flour mixed with oil, and were meant to be pleasing aromas to God.

Chapter 28 of the Book of Numbers outlines the offerings and sacrifices that the Israelites were commanded to present to the Lord on a daily, weekly, monthly, and yearly basis. Here's a reflection on some key themes and lessons from Numbers 28:

Worship and Devotion: Chapter 28 emphasizes the importance of regular and consistent worship. It details the various offerings and sacrifices that the Israelites were to present to the Lord as acts of devotion and obedience.

Reflection: This chapter reminds us of the significance of worship in our relationship with God. It encourages us to cultivate a lifestyle of worship, offering our time, resources, and hearts to God in dedicated service. By setting aside specific times for worship and engaging in acts of devotion, we can deepen our connection with God and express our love and gratitude towards Him.

Sacrifice and Atonement: The offerings described in chapter 28 serve as a means of seeking forgiveness and atonement for sins. The sacrifices are presented as a way to maintain a right relationship with God and restore fellowship with Him.

Reflection: This chapter highlights the concept of sacrifice and atonement in the Israelite religious practices. It points to the need for reconciliation and forgiveness in our relationship with God. It also foreshadows the ultimate sacrifice of Jesus Christ, who would offer Himself as the perfect atoning sacrifice for our sins. By recognizing the significance of Christ's sacrifice, we can experience true forgiveness and restoration in our relationship with God.

Intentionality and Commitment: The offerings and sacrifices outlined in chapter 28 required intentionality and commitment from the Israelites. They were expected to present the prescribed offerings at specific times and with the appropriate reverence.

Reflection: This chapter prompts us to consider the importance of intentionality and commitment in our worship and devotion. It challenges us to be deliberate in setting aside time and resources for God, giving Him our best and showing reverence in our acts of worship. By approaching our worship with sincerity and dedication, we can cultivate a deeper connection with God and honor Him with our lives.

The Continuity of Worship: The offerings and sacrifices described in chapter 28 were to be observed consistently, day after day, week after week, and year after year. They represented an ongoing commitment to worship and devotion.

Reflection: This chapter highlights the need for continuity and consistency in our worship and spiritual practices. It reminds us that worship is not a one-time event but a lifelong journey. By establishing regular rhythms of worship and maintaining a steadfast commitment to God, we can grow in our faith and experience His presence and blessings throughout our lives.

Overall, Numbers 28 addresses themes of worship and devotion, sacrifice and atonement, intentionality and commitment, and the continuity of worship. By reflecting on these themes, we can cultivate a lifestyle of worship, recognize the significance of Christ's sacrifice, approach worship with intentionality, and commit to a lifelong journey of devotion to God..
