Thanksgiving prayer

Our Father in heaven:

Thank You! This Thanksgiving, we come before You with hearts full of gratitude to offer our praise.

Lord, thank You for giving us breath of life and keeping us safe every day in and out. Thank You for providing our daily needs for food, granting us shelter, family, friends, and the grace of loving and supporting each other among brothers and sisters. Many times, we are accustomed to Your provision, thinking everything is taken for granted. We ask the Holy Spirit to shine upon us, so that we may see the grace You give us every day and learn to be thankful in all things.

Lord, even in the days of life's hardships, You are still with us. When we encounter difficulties, illness, disappointment, or even troubled hearts, please comfort us personally, calm our hearts again, and entrust our worries to You. Help us not only to be thankful in good times but also to learn to trust You in adversity, because we firmly believe Your grace is sufficient for us and Your love never changes.

Heavenly Father, we are especially grateful for our families. Please bless every family, so that spouses may understand each other, parents and children love one another, and that there may be peace, joy, and Your presence at home. Please remember the lonely, the sick, those lacking in life, and families facing difficulties. Please personally be their comfort and help, and move us to be blessings to others.

Lord, we also give thanks for the church and all the brothers and sisters. Thank You for making us one family in Christ. Please keep our faith, so that in this chaotic age, we may still hold fast to the truth, love one another, serve as one, bravely proclaim the gospel, and let more people know the salvation of Jesus Christ.

Help us not only count graces on Thanksgiving, but keep a grateful heart in every day of our lives. Let us complain less and be more grateful; Worry less, trust more; Be less calculating, more tolerant. May our lives become living witnesses, so those around us may see Christ's love in us.

Lord, please continue to lead us on the path ahead. No matter what tomorrow brings, we are willing to entrust ourselves, our families, the church, and all our concerns into Your hands. Because we know that You once faithfully led us, and today You still watch over us, and in the future, You will not abandon us.

May all glory, honor, and praise be to our Lord!

Thank the Heavenly Father, for Your grace is sufficient, and Your love endures forever.

We are so grateful and pray in the holy name of the victorious Lord Jesus Christ.
